Hello I am _____ and as you know I am a student at California State Polytechnic University, Pomona (CPP). This year I have been so lucky to discover CPP's American Marketing Association. CPP AMA is an organization that offers Cal Poly Pomona students a chance to grow professionally, socially and get some hands-on marketing experience. AMA provides professional development events, such as marketing conferences and marketing competitions, socials to form bonds that last, and most importantly paid members have a chance to join their student run marketing agency, the Dare 2 Compare Marketing Agency. Members can gain real life marketing experience, get out of their comfort zone, and see first hand where their talents shine brightest.

AMA is jam packed with all these wonderful opportunities, but in order to access their benefits a small fee is required. However, due to the unfortunate challenges of the Covid 19 pandemic, I am afraid that I might miss out on opportunities such as this one. AMA is already helping connect students in need with resources that assist students in reaching out to sponsors, so that no student gets left behind. Therefore I am asking for your help in sponsoring me on my AMA journey.
